A dedicated journalist, I have recently completed my MA in Arts and Lifestyle Journalism at London College of Communication (UAL). Focusing mainly on culture and social issues, I have bylines in Culture Trip and Cosmopolitan (soon to be published).

Additionally, I have experience working as a features editor on an independent magazine which I co-founded, and I also have copywriting experience.

I love speaking with people and exploring unexpected angles with regards to story ideas, and take great pride in producing factual, ethical, and impactful article. Currently freelancing, I am looking for full-time or part-time work within an organisation.
