

Suian Friend
explain guide

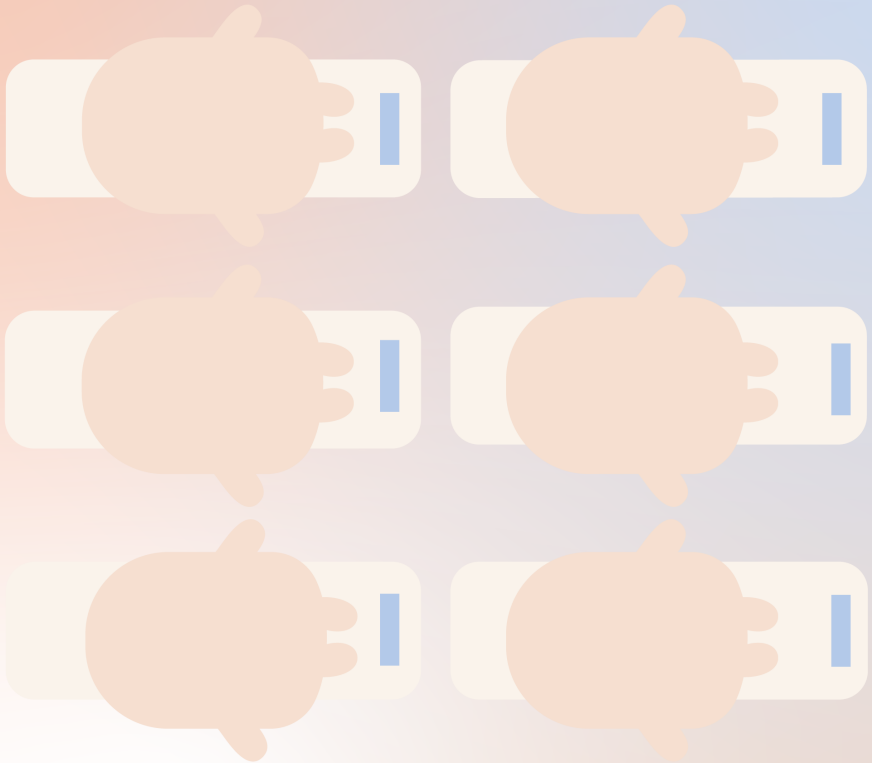

Suianfriend is a representation of Chinese international student, it could connect with other international student, while maintaining the wide knowledge to help you go through this hard time together. It has two modes, activate by different parts.

SuianFriend could attached two parts called suisui and anan, a hat (comes from Chinese Radical in “an” called Treasure Cover) means reassurance, calm the mind, and a flying carpet (comes from Chinese radical in “sui” called walking) means progress and accompany.

The flying carpet suisui embodies the spirit of exploration and companionship. It serves as a metaphor for reaching out and connecting with other Chinese students who share similar aspirations and needs.

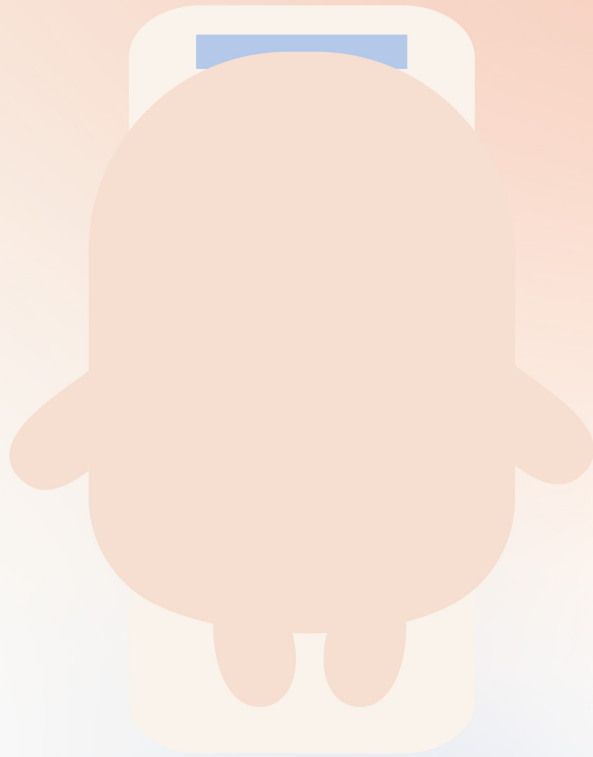

Together, they engage in healing activities, fostering a sense of community. Chat sessions revolve around mindset and life, creating a supportive space for open dialogue.

They could share their recorded daily emotional fluctuations. This fosters a platform where mutual advice and strategies for mindset improvement are exchanged, encouraging collective and stable growth for everyone.

The hat anan symbolizes stability and protection, serving as a personal sanctuary for inward-focused activities. It's designed to support solitary pursuits like meditation and psychological stability exercises.

When it detects a mood shift towards negative emotions, the hat intuitively activates methods of inner exploration and peace-seeking, such as meditation or other tailored techniques, to help restore emotional balance and tranquility.

Together, they make a strong duo for SuianFriend avatar,
