

Bedroom set plan

The first step in creating my sets was drawing plans at 1:25 scale.

Street plan

Some sets changed a lot from the initial plan, but it was still useful to have a design sketched out as a guide for what to build.

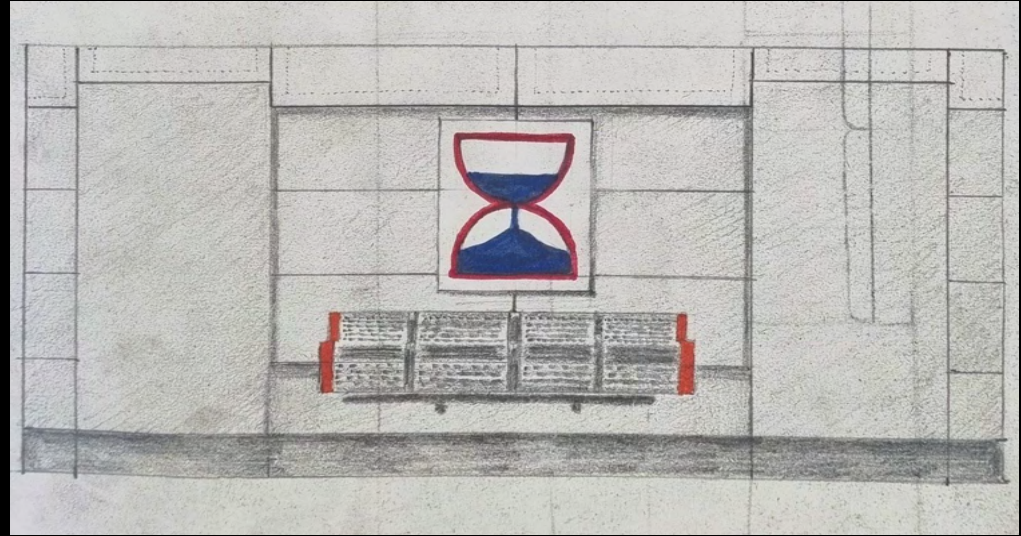

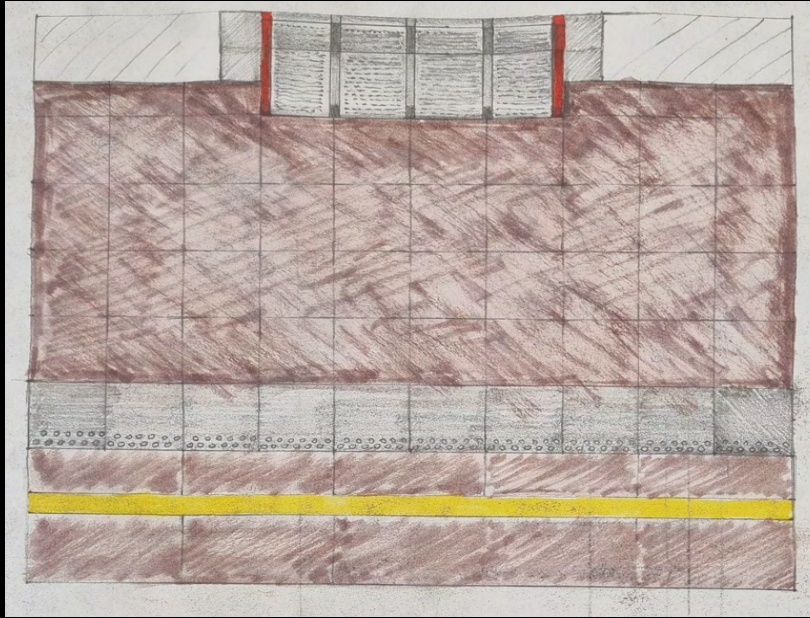

Later street elevation

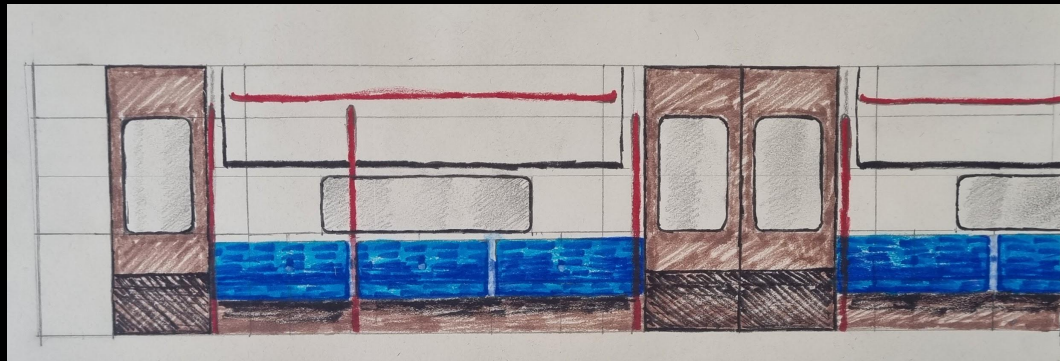

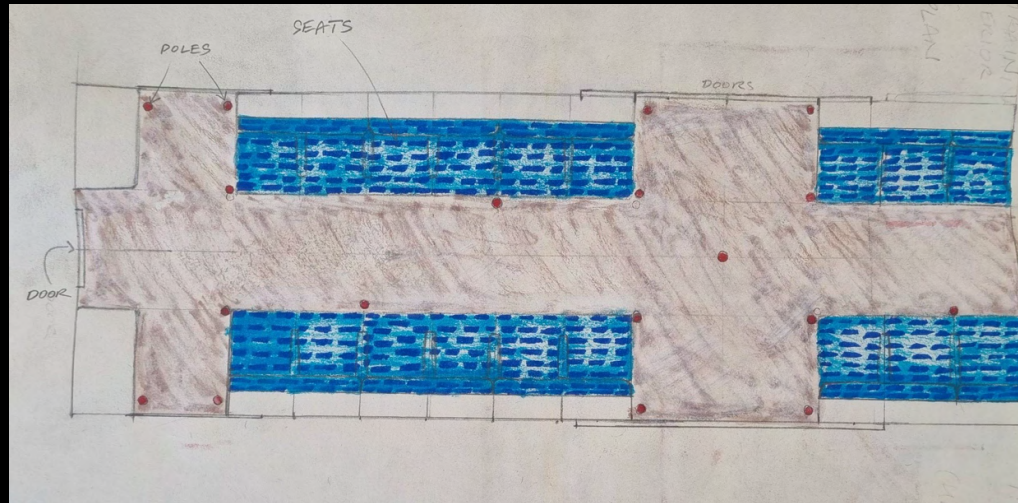

When it was time to build this set, I drew out an updated elevation to work to.

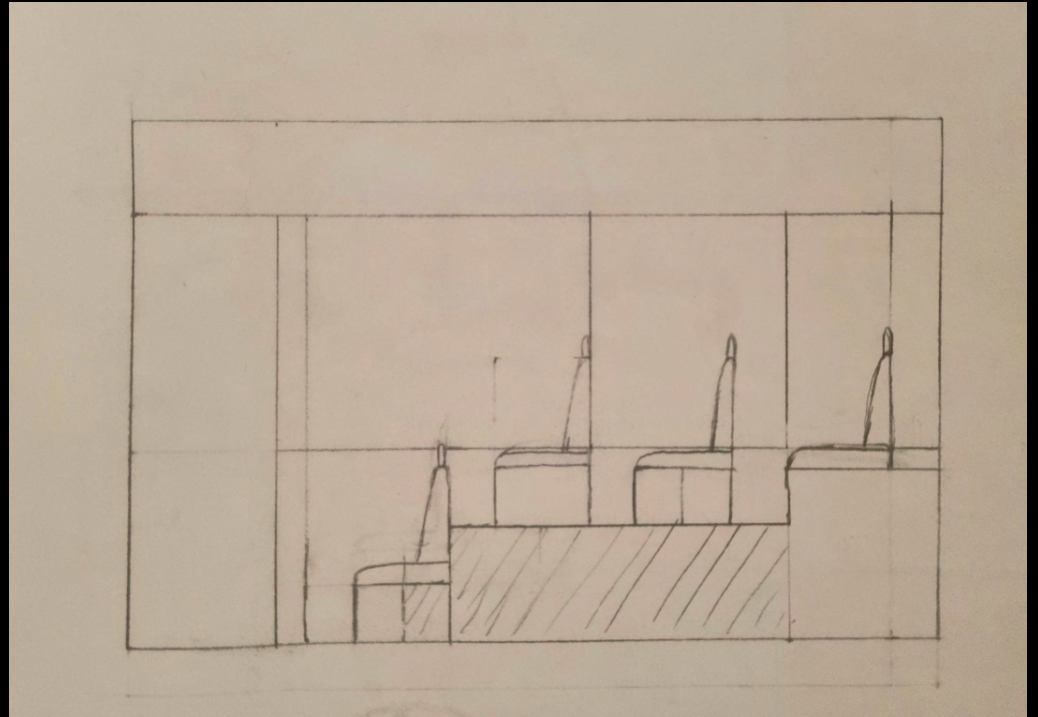

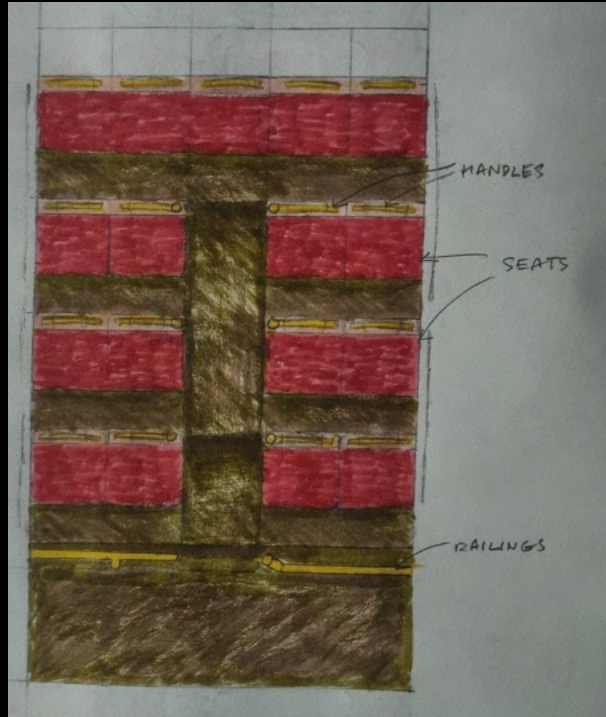

Train platform plan & elevation

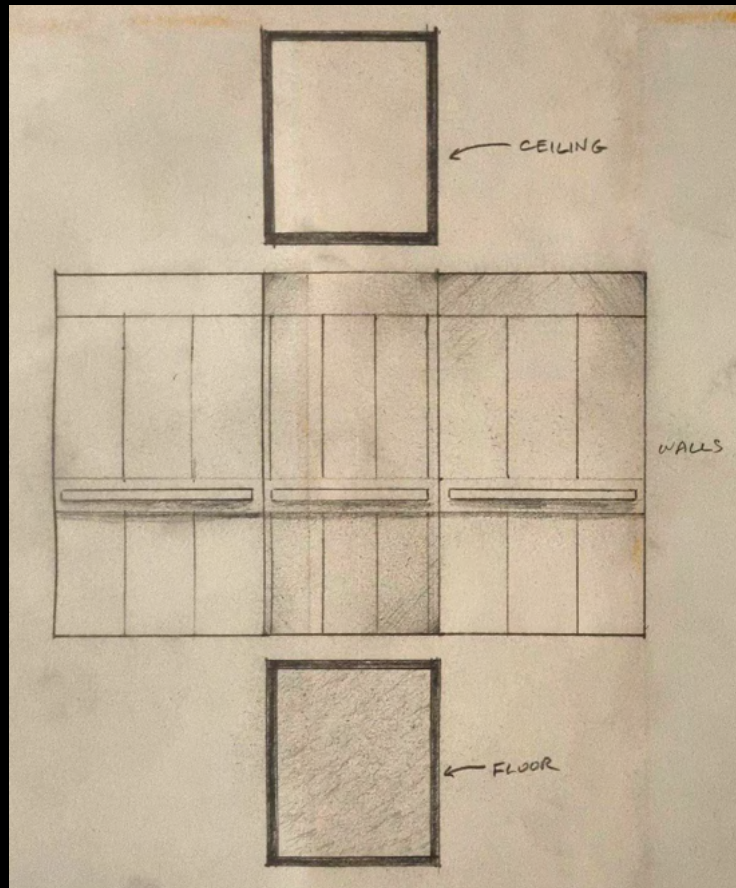

Train carriage plan & elevation

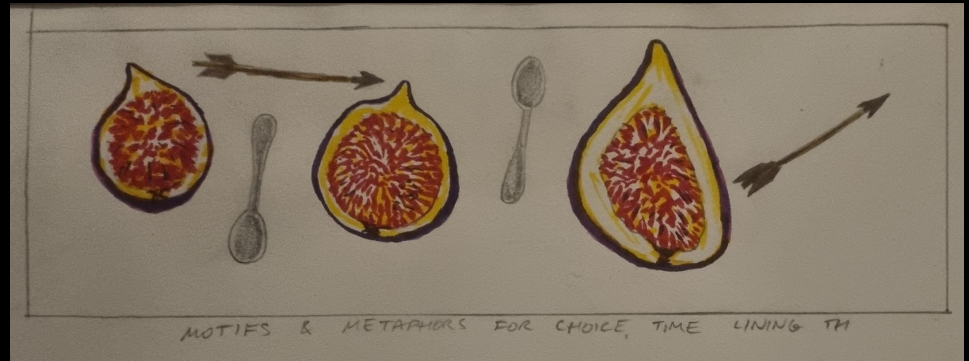

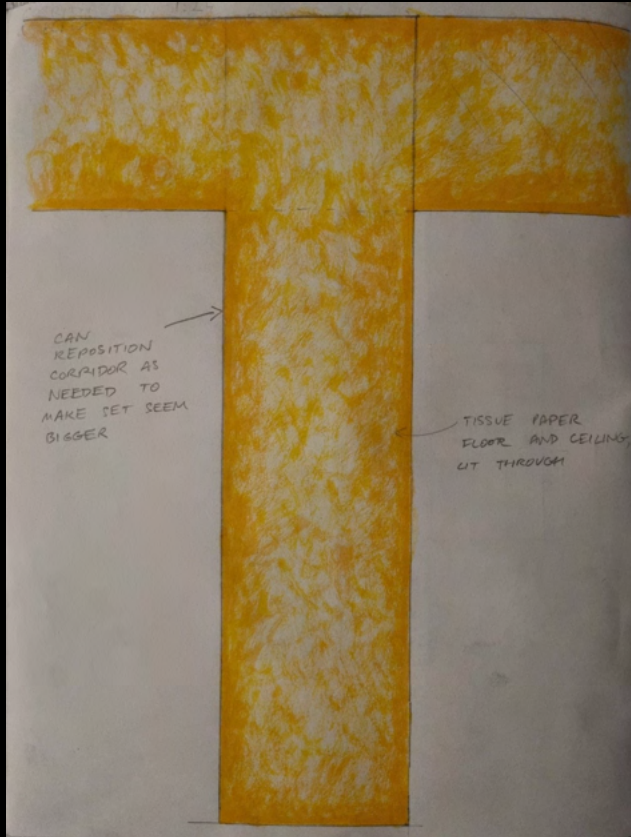

Bus interior plan & elevation

Elevator plan & elevation

Corridor initial plan & elevation

This changed the most as I knew it would be the last set to construct and I had not fully developed the design at this stage.
