

CONCEPT EXPLORATION

Scenario exploration

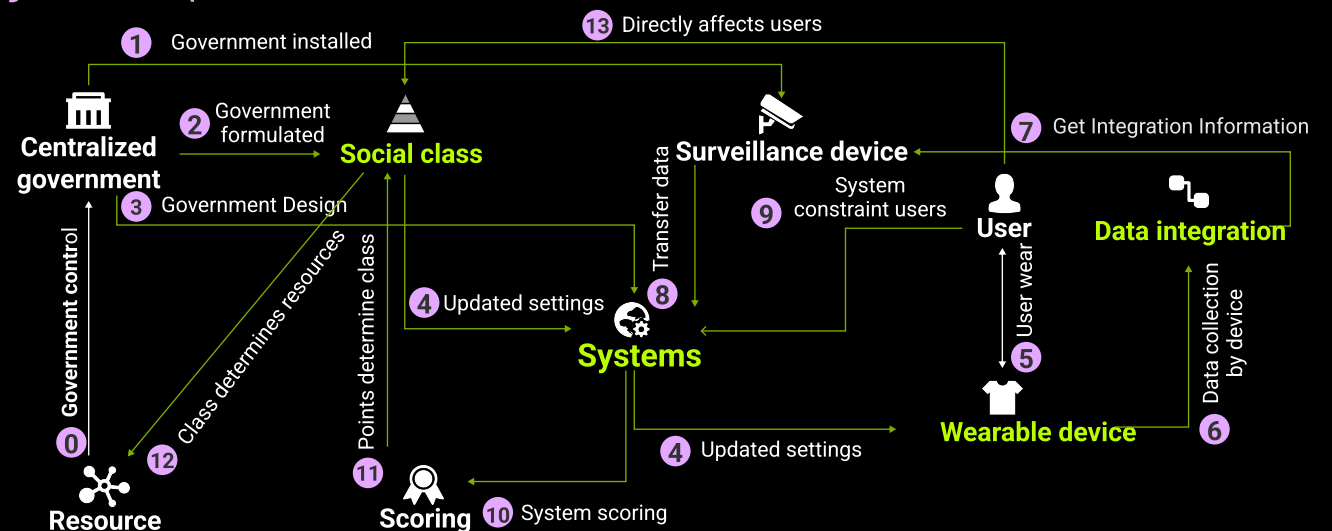

In exploring the scenarios I built a multitude possible scenarios for the future of my discursive design using Lego models, and eventually chose the most appropriate possible scenario for my design.

The tallest of the figures is at the centre of a raised platform, symbolising the central ruling body of the Life Equity Project and the people at the higher end of the health scale. The gold bricks, gears and staircases scattered around represent the resources and mechanisms of the society, where the resources (bricks) are controlled by the centre, the gears symbolise the strong collaboration and systematic functioning of the society, and the staircases imply that the people have to climb up the ladder in order to get a high score or more benefits. The giant wearable device in the background suggests that the laws of the world are determined by this device and system, which seems to give equal opportunities to all, but in fact controls the final distribution of resources
