Parasitism

When I took my last breath,
all I had left was a faint memory and a fresh feeling of being in that time. This project is a gift to myself. To remember those what I really felt. To Life.

8.11

Ever since I was 16, some strange emotions started haunting me. I feel anxious and scared about everything that is happening right now and what is going to happen. For such a small thing as the necklace's string being broken, I can imagine countless futures that this event may foreshadow in one minute. I have to carefully count the number of bites I take when eating bread. If it is an odd number, it will ruin my mood for 10.06

The headache from overthinking and the stomachache from anxiety hit me at the same time. I have become accustomed to taking stomach medicine before breakfast, which is more accustomed to me than drinking water when I am thirsty. If I don't feel dizzy when I go out today, I should go to church to thank God.

12.25

All of this is like a germ, parasitic in the deepest part of my brain, taking root and sprouting. I could even feel its prickly rhizomes expanding a little, crawling all over my body, penetrating deeply through every blood vessel in me, and then breaking through my skin. I swear to God, I could see coquettish and extremely scary flowers blooming on my forearms and thighs stained with my blood.

Taoism

This project is to promote and inherit the unique religious culture of the Chinese nation

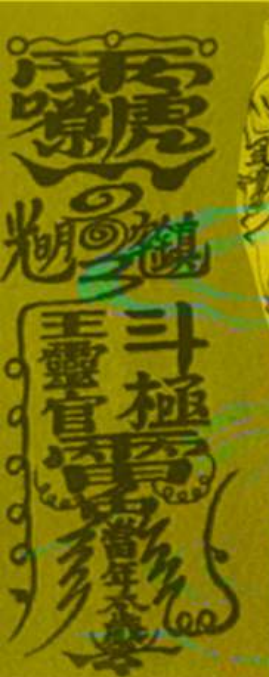

1571BC - 410BC
* Lao-Tzu Ancient Chinese thinker, philosophers, writers and historians

Taoism is a religion that originated in China and was founded by Chinese people. It was formed and established in China from the Eastern Han Dynasty to the Wei, Jin, and Southern Dynasties. Lao-tzu's work 'Tao Te Ching' is regarded as the highest belief and constructed a huge system of classical Taoism. The ultimate goal is to cultivate one's nature and live in harmony with nature.

In the late Yuan Dynasty, various Taoist sects gradually merged, eventually forming a co-existing pattern of Quanzhen and Zhengyi sects which continues to this day.

Quanzhen
Quanzhen maintains a strong original individuality. It advocates the unity of Confucianism, Buddhism, and Taoism, the main purpose of cultivation is to be quiet and inactive, eliminate emotions and desires, and nourish qi and refine elixirs. Taoist priests of the Quanzhen sect are monastic Taoist priests who are single, vegetarians and live in Taoist temples.

Zhengyi Zhengyi means "righteousness to control evil, one to unify all". The Zhengyi sect was formed by the alliance of the Longshu, Liao, and other Fulu* sects.
* Fulu: Fulu is a kind of magic in Taoism, and is the collective name of the "and"

The Zhengyi sect attaches great importance to activities such as fasting with talismans, prayer for blessings and warding off disasters, dispelling evil spirits and ~~exorcising~~ exorcising the souls of the dead.

Taoism

Witchcraft is the ideological source of the formation of Taoism.

Fulu

Fulu is a special religious symbol that looks like words but not words, looks like paintings. It convey one's will, summons ghosts and gods, exorcises evil spirits, cures diseases and protects the body. Only masters can make magical talismans, so they are kept secret and are only passed down privately between masters and disciples.

the main witchcrafts

Wai Dan

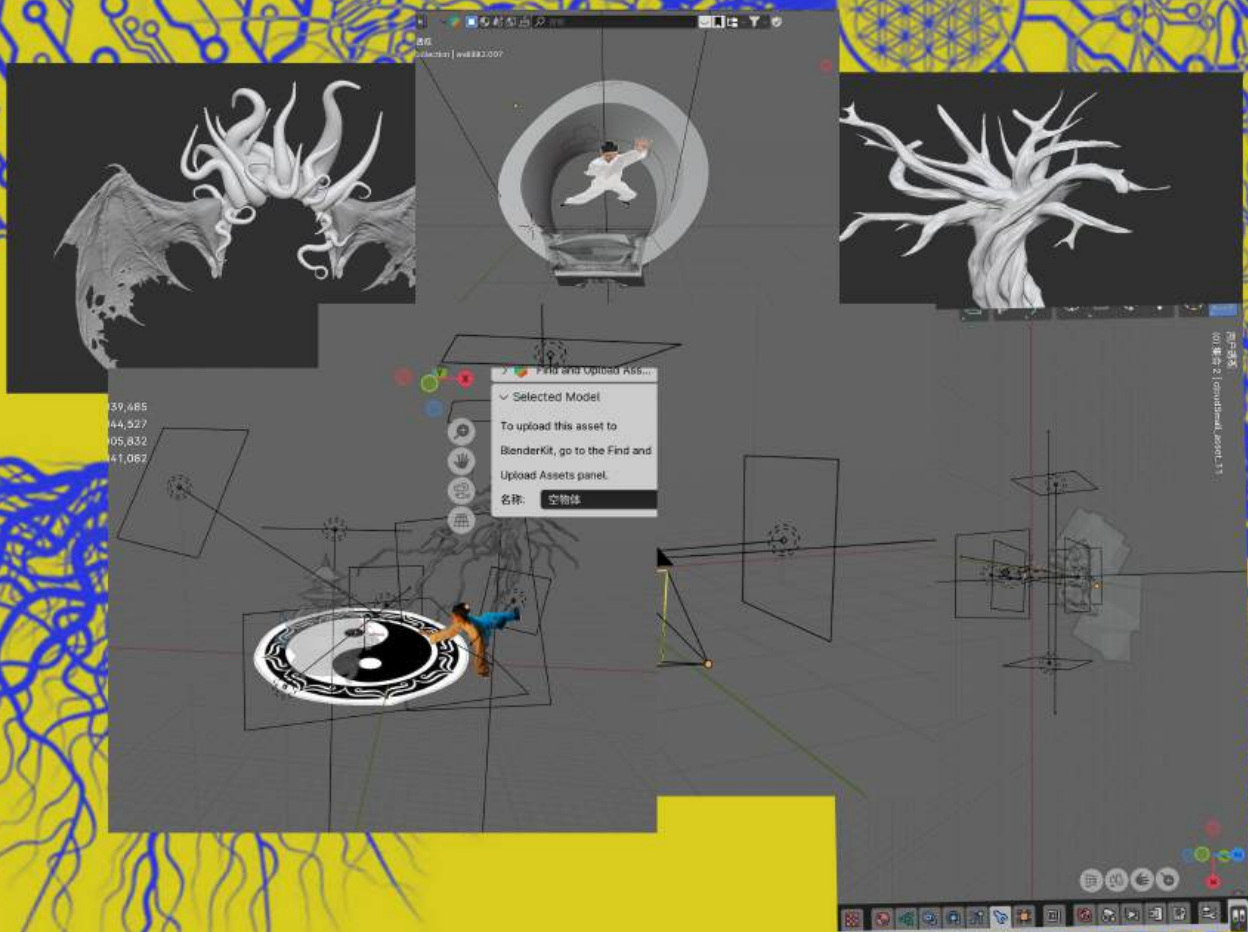

Using cinnabar, lead, mercury, mica and other mineral stone medicine as raw materials, they are smelted in a furnace to finally obtain a golden elixir that can lead to immortality. Pharmaceutical raw materials can also be animal and plant medicinal materials.

Nei Dan

The rise of Nei Dan was later than Wai Dan, the terminology of Nei Dan was borrowed from Wai Dan. Using the human body as a cauldron, using essence, energy and spirit as the medicine, and thoughts as the fire, the magical elixir is refined in the body and condensed in the dantian, thereby making a person grow and become an immortal. The cultivation process mainly includes several stages, such as building the foundation, refining the essence, transform into Qi, refining Qi to transform into spirit.

project 2 — from chaos to chaos

「what do you know about love? what do you know about life? what do you know about blood? 」 The first time I felt the temperature of the outside sun shining on my face, the first time I peeped out from the bottom of the well, and the "vertigo of freedom" brought by the big sky. A spiritual revolution in the existence of the "I".

"Only for those whose spiritual world is in chaos" - Daisies (1966)

Looking back on my journey, I have been struggling to give myself a label, a positioning. I always thought that when people asked me what my personality was like, I had to sum it up in precise words. So I look at how people behave when they're being interviewed on TV. Like if I'm a cheerful person, then I have to be cheerful all the time. I'm going to follow that rule because I told myself that's who I am. Gradually become careful with everything I say and do, until I drive myself crazy. Who am I? How to live? There will never be an answer. If I want to do this at this moment, then I will do it without hesitation, then this moment I am such a person. The thousands of me inside me coexist in a chaotic state like the beginning of the universe, maintaining a wonderful balance, and now I gradually know what freedom is. The house is on fire, leave it all behind you.

hello everyone, now, you are about to watch a never-ending fantasy book built with my blood, sweat, and tears. I hope this can bring you comfort at some one cold night in the future and tell you that you never walk alone. now enjoy.

I was born in a peninsula city in China called Yantai. My childhood was ordinary and happy. It was the happiest time of my life so far. I had a perfect grandfather, pretty good man. Everybody likes him. I went to primary school, middle school and high school locally, and I won't be modest because my grades have always been among the best. I'm the typical NERD. But everything changed on that autumn afternoon, ain't it funny how life works? Changed all of a sudden. After that I spent five or six years in Korea and Japan, and I still feel like everything is a dream.

Q:How do you feel now?

A:My shoulders are sore and my breathing is a little difficult.

Why?

A:I don't know...it often happens.I'm already used to it.

Q:Okay.So it's just another coming-of-age story ?

A:NO.What I am taking to you now is about a war ,a revolution ,inside me ,and the river of blood.There's a soldier ,only one ,because I've been all alone.Did I ever told you that I am lonely?

Q:Then what does that feel like?! mean the war. As for loneliness ,I think everyone is lonely.

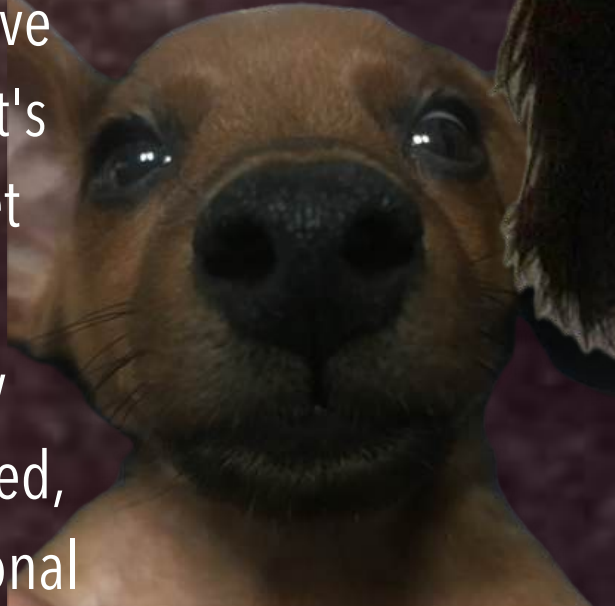

A:Well ,It's complicated. First of all, it's like a real war. It brought the pain. My desires began to swell, and my jealousy was killing me. Is this the right path? At this point I have no way to go back, but I have never actually thought about going back. I have to be a superior.It's not just for me. I have someone I love, even though I've never met him. And my family. I want to be proud of my family. And the very hard walls began to crumble, just because I threw the stone in my hand. But the accompanying noise was harsher than I had expected, followed by the daily darkness and a little breeze from the occasional truce horn.

interview

Q:Sounds horrible.

A:Yeah,That's what I thought at first. But now I feel lucky. Because not everyone can experience this kind of war, God has sent it to me, and I can feel the beauty and darkness of this world, where countless creatures coexist in a wonderful balance amid the chaos. I want to see more, I want to feel more, I want to live like a fantasy movie, I want to be young forever until the moment I close my eyes. I'm not happy right now and I don't know when or if I will be happy, but I'm on my way and I'm confident.

daisy

To the man who offered me a life and the movie which saved my life.

course

psychopath

Something must be wrong with me. The sky is heavy on me, I can't breathe, where is this? Oh, my God, did you hear me scream? My mind broke into pieces, venting my anger at everything in sight. Please wake me up from this nightmare.

isolation

Gee! Why do these people all look so happy? I hate this feeling. I purposely build connections with others because I want to prove that I can be happy too. But I don't understand what they're saying. Everybody is so fake I swear. I feel angry. hey is it okay if I say the f word now?

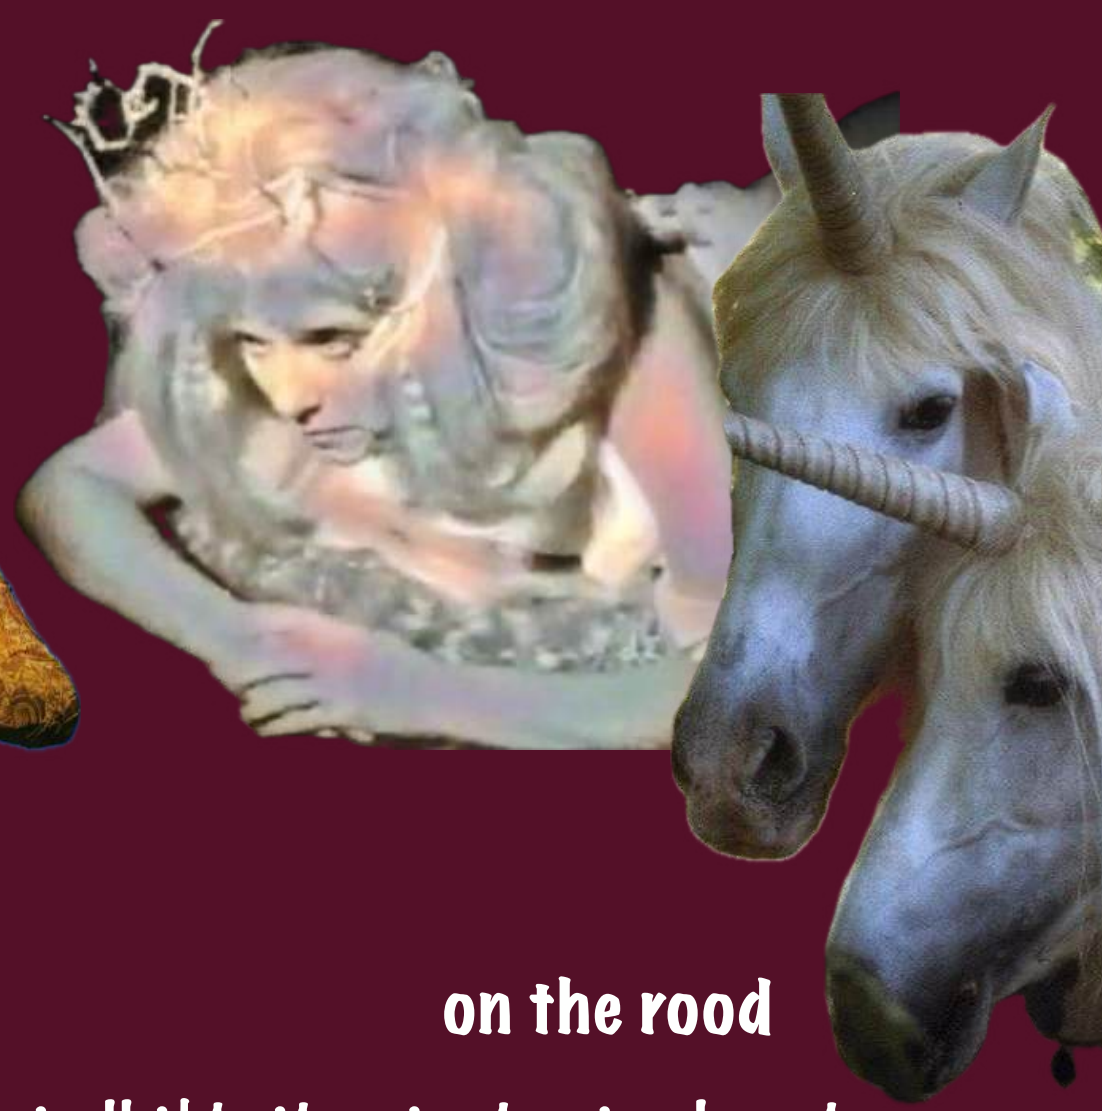

sex addition

Sex gives me a brief escape from my life, and how can you judge me for that? A blend of groans, sweat, and orgasmic shouts, and when this is all over, God please save me from this place.

on the road

I spent all this time trying to play nice and finally found my way here. See I've been having me a really hard time, but it's alright. Still got that undying passions inside me and on the way fly to my own utopia.
