PROFILE

I'm Anna Sloss, a soon-to-be graduate from the London College of Fashion with a degree in Hair and Makeup for Fashion. Whilst my degree is in the beauty field, I have honed my skills in visual storytelling, creative branding, and concept-led design. Through my degree and self-initiated projects, I've developed a strong creative eye and the ability to bring ideas to life across digital platforms. My strengths lie in creative direction, video editing, content creation, campaign styling, and building cohesive, audience-led narratives. Highly organised, self-motivated, and commercially minded, I'm passionate about shaping engaging brand experiences and excited to contribute to innovative, forward-thinking teams.
